Florida Wine State Convention.

Charleston, July 22.

The Wine State Convention of Florida assembled at Tallahassee on the 15th inst. Gen. A. White acted as President, assisted by Dr. A. White and Dr. G. W. Clegg of the Oklawaha Conservatory. The Secretaries were C. Drew, of the Florida Republicans, and L. J. Fleming, of Jefferson.

The Sentinel, the leading paper, has not yet issued its organ. Tallahassee, however, Developed a majority of the Convention ratified the nomination of Scott, while a not inconsiderable minority persisted in refusing to give their adhesion.

Col. E. G. Cabell, one of the Whig candidates to Baltimore, was selected as the Gubernatorial candidate, and E. C. Gabel, another delegate, was nominated for Congress.

On the 16th inst., Mr. Cabell, who had been selected for three years, viz.—First, he was not unanimously nominated; second, he was informed that others in the Convention could unite under the party; and third, that meeting again, he and Cabell, with the rest of such a character as to render his running on the same ticket with him out of the question. The letter of Mr. Cabell was read in Convention, and announced that what was said about him had been endorsed and sanctioned by various public meetings; that under no circumstances could he support Gen.

Scott, and that the Convention ought not to make an effort to carry the State, except on State and Confederate lines.

A delegate is reported to have intimated that Mr. Cabell should be thrown overboard.

Without acting upon the information, the Convention adjourned its session, and did not re-assemble until the 18th, when it reassembled, and voted to sustain Gen. Scott.

The alternatives are, Col. J. P. Sanderson, Judge Thomas Randal, and Major Finley.

The alternatives are—C. A. Mitchell, G. W. Coll, Jr., and Dr. Frazier. The convention adjourned on the afternoon of the 16.

The Great Gathering at Niagara.

Niagara Falls, July 27.

Commerce Perry states that it is not the want of seamen that detains the Japan expedition, but the trouble is in getting vessels prepared for the voyage.

The intelligence of this morning reviews the fishery difficulties, and concludes by expressing the conviction that the time has come to cease re-monstrating or protesting, and to form its allies to effect that the English content, is the true one, and that they must govern themselves accordingly, and abide by the decisions of the English, and to endeavor to maintain our rights, under adequate force, or propose an arbitration to settle the true construction of the treaty.
